

What should LIS be talking about?

Image transcription follows

These comments hail from a collaborative idea generation activity at the So What? Launch Party on September 25, 2018.

As the writing process was collaborative, additional comments and votes of support that were added to comments are listed [in square brackets] next to the prompting comment.

Proactive diverse hiring practices [+1]

Conspiracy theories

Effective social media engagement

Tacos! Sandwiches?

Alternatives to DDC/LCC [AC/DC] [+1]

Capitalism in libraries [Yay money] [+1] [+1]

How to talk to friends and family about information literacy

Web development & other coding w/ students and patrons [+1]

Robots

Evidence-based librarianship [What's evidence and who gets to decide? [Me] [+1] [+1]]

Fake news (How to produce & [?!de]monetize it)

Podcasting!

Emerging tech

Libraries and disaster planning

Sex education

Artificial intelligence [+1]

Decolonization

Special libraries (aka wine + cheese librarian) [+1]